

Youth Lifesaving Pathways Handbook

For members 13 - 17 years

Foreword

This guide has been developed to assist and support youth members (13-17 years) in choosing their own unique journey in lifesaving; from development to aquatic sports, training and leadership pathways. This handbook contains concise information to assist youth members as they navigate and explore the many opportunities available in lifesaving. We hope it inspires our future lifesavers to take advantage of the endless opportunities available and work towards their goals and aspirations for a long and fulfilling future in the lifesaving movement.

Your journey through lifesaving is unique. There are many different pathways and areas to explore, develop, learn and grow in. This booklet is intended to guide your lifesaving journey and let it inspire a pathway that will give you an experience of a lifetime.

Acknowledgement of Country

Life Saving Victoria (LSV) acknowledges the Bunurong People of the South-Eastern Kulin Nation on which this guide was written, and the many Traditional Owners where the Lifesaving Education programs are delivered.

We recognise the significant cultural links, many of the waterways and land used for water safety and lifesaving education have and encourage all our Partners to work closely with their local Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander communities to provide inclusive programs.

We pay our respects to Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islanders, including their Elders, past, present, and emerging.
